Figures for:

“Criminologists and Historians of Crime: A Partnership Well Worth Pursuing”

Randolph Roth

Historical Violence Database

Criminal Justice Research Center

Ohio State University

The following figures accompany “Criminologists and Historians of Crime,” an essay published in the journal Crime, History, and Societies. The data are from the Vital Statistics of the United States, Bureau of the Census, 1928-1960, and from the Compressed Mortality Files, National Center for Health Statistics, 1959-2013. The data are available on-line through:

https://www.cdc.gov/nchs/products/vsus.htm

https://wonder.cdc.gov/mortSQL.html
Figure 1

Homicide Rate in the United States, 1900-2013

Rate per 100,000 persons per year

Years
Homicide Rates in the United States, 1928-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
Figure 3

Homicide Rates in the United States, 1959-2013
Ages 25 to 44

Rates per 100,000 persons per year

Figure 5

Homicide Rates in Northern New England, 1959-2004
Ages 15 to 24 by period

Rate per 100,000 persons per year

Figure 6

Homicide Rates in the Mountain States, 1959-2004
Ages 15 to 24 by period

Rate per 100,000 persons per year

Figure 7

Black Male Homicide Rates in the United States, 1928-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
Figure 8

Other Race Male Homicide Rates in the United States, 1959-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
White Male Homicide Rates in the United States, 1928-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
White Female Homicide Rates in the United States, 1928-2013 by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
Black Female Homicide Rates in the United States, 1928-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
Other Race Female Homicide Rates in the United States, 1959-2013
by Age Groups (Index: 1959 = 1)
Figure 13

Suicide Rates in the United States by Age, 1928-2012

Source: Vital Statistics of the United States
Source: Compressed Mortality Files