Gorgil Emile Russell reports about 8:15 P.M. a difficultly occurred between Henry Harris, aged about 51 years old, and Clarence Goldston, aged about 23 years old, both colored, step-father and step-son, which resulted in both men cutting each other with pocket knives.

It seems that Harris, by brandishing Goldston for lying behind him praying his board and Goldston took exception to his remarks, answered him back. A fight followed between the two and Goldston cut his step-father on the left side of the forehead with his pocket-knife. Harris drew his pocket-knife and cut his step-son across the stomach, and in return Goldston stabbed Harris in the right breast. Goldston expired before the arrival of the ambulance.

Later Mr. O'Hara viewed the body of Clarence Goldston at his residence and turned it over to his mother, Malvina Harris. Both knives were found and sent to the Coroner's office.

DETAILED REPORT.

I would respectfully report that at 10 1/2 O'clock this morning William Berthold Jr., age 32 years, a shoe batter, and Miss Mary Selma, aged 18 years, both residing at 3676 Facility St., were shot and fatally wounded, while Mrs. William Berthold Jr. was cut in the right ear and slightly wounded on the head from a blow by Andrew Berthold aged 20 years, a laborer residing on Granite between Fifth and Sixth Sts.

The details of the case as learned by myself and my brother, Andrew Berthold, were not on good terms with the others, owing to a family quarrel caused by a misunderstanding about a piece of property and the division of William Berthold to take the ten-year-old son of Charles away from the home of Mrs. Berthold Jr., where Andrew John and George, all brothers of William, resided. With their mother, yesterday Charles was punished by his father for injuring a smaller brother. The story reached the brothers of William Berthold and was retold about an hour before the shooting. Andrew and his brother were to be John Went to William Berthold's home and meet him, his wife and Miss Selma on the Step. Andrew asked if the boy had been whipped because he had visited his grandmother's home. William replied that that was not so and Andrew declared that if Rush was the case he would still William and make threatening remarks. Andrew and the brother who had accompanied him departed. William Berthold, his wife, and Miss Selma were still seated on the Step at 10:15 O'clock when Andrew approached the place coming in Facility Street from Fifth and began shooting. At the time Henrietta Phillips, a Negro residing in An adjoining house was taking to the Berthold and Miss Selina, she saw the shooting but did not know the man who had the pistol. The first shot struck Miss Selina on the forehead, fatally wounding her. Three other shots were fired at William Berthold. One shot entered the right side of the body and ranged downward and made its exit at the left side of the body. Another bullet entered the left side of the abdomen.

A third shot entered the left leg below the knee. After shooting William Berthold, the brother Andrew Berthold assaulted Mrs. William Berthold and pursued her into Johnson Street between Hoyt and Lafayette into hiding for several times. With the butt of the revolver, breaking her head and splitting her left ear, and injuring her right wrist, the effects of the blow blinded A. Berthold. When A. Berthold was finding her about the body when Special Officer Edward Leslie of 966 Fourth Street placed him under arrest. At the time John Berthold, a brother of the accused was present. The pension with which the shooting was done was not found by Special Officer Leslie. Leslie, that at the same time he placed Andrew Berthold under arrest he saw two negro men in the main house, to whom Andrew Berthold gave his pistol. No information was for him obtained. Special Officer Leslie took charge of the prisoner and held him in the Security Savings Company's Place in the neighborhood. He also furnished for the ambulance for the wounded people. Threw the prisoner over to the death of Baker and Meyer.

I took Andrew Berthold before Mrs. William Berthold, who identified him positively as the man who did the shooting. The prisoner

Was taken by myself and Corporal Martin from the first turbinated wagon to the Charity Hospital where William Berthold in an oath sworn statement declared that Andrew Berthold his brother the prisoner that he without cause William Berthold identified the prisoner most positively as the man who did the shooting.

The doctors of the hospital expressed the opinion that both Miss Selima and William Berthold will die as a result of their wounds. Miss Mary Selima died in the Charity Hospital at 3:15 o'clock the 2nd July 89. And Paul Berthold was locked up in the Station charged with murder.

The case is still under investigation and a hunt is being made for the revolver which Andrew Berthold used in the shooting of the above mentioned parties. Miss Mary Selima the deceased was conveyed to the Charity in an ambulance driven by John Clark after the shooting.

I would report that about 8 o'clock on a difficulty occurred on the wharf head of 1st Avenue, between two shaggy laborers, John McDonald, residence 2207 1st Avenue, and Joe Lewis, residing St. Philip Street, both Royal & Bourbon, which resulted in McDonald firing two shots at Lewis, one bullet taking effect in the back of the head, causing his death. The Coroner's Officer was notified, James Laughlin, clerk, arranged the body removed to the morgue in the 1st Precinct patrol wagon, driver Ernest Heagin & patrolman John Freedman in charge.

Cause which lead to the shooting from statements of Baptiste Williams—colored, residence 432 Burgundy Street. On yesterday, Sunday, John M. Donald went to Lewis' house and told his wife that he was throwing his money away by drinking and gambling. This morning Lewis met M. Donald on the wharf head St. Ann Street, and asked him why he carried letters to his wife about him, and remarked that a man who carried letters to another man's wife was no better than a dump. They started a fight, Lewis proved to be the stronger of the two, and was getting the better of M. Donald when he bolted away from Lewis, ran off, a short while later he returned and without any warning pulled a revolver from his right pants pocket and fired two shots at Lewis, one bullet was in his hand and the other after he had fallen to the ground. M. Donald was arrested by Charles Abadie of Civil District Court & J. G. Gazeau of 7th District. The weapon used an .32 Johnson, 3 caliber 3 shots. Two chambers discharged was sent to court.
